AIA Vitality Points

AIA Vitality members earn AIA Vitality Points through a number of health and fitness related activities. Examples of activities that earn you AIA Vitality Points include meeting daily steps targets, health, nutrition and fitness assessments.

The AIA Vitality Points you earn determine your AIA Vitality Status and level of savings and rewards.

AIA Vitality Status

As a new AIA Vitality member, you start on Bronze Status. You can upgrade your status by earning AIA Vitality Points through completing program activities. See below for AIA Vitality Points required to reach each status.

Bronze	0
Silver	10,000
Gold	20,000
Platinum	30,000

At the end of each AIA Vitality membership year, you carry over the AIA Vitality Status you achieved into the next membership year. Your AIA Vitality Points drop to zero at the start of each new AIA Vitality membership year and you'll need to earn AIA Vitality Points again to maintain or exceed the AIA Vitality Status that you previously achieved.

Some benefits and discounts, including eligible life insurance policies, may be based on this status.

AIA Vitality Rewards

One of the many rewards available to AIA Vitality members is an initial 12.5% discount on eligible lump sum AIA Australia life insurance benefits.*

Discounts may increase or decrease every year, based on your AIA Vitality Status.

*12.5% initial discount is only applicable to premiums on eligible lump sum benefits. This is not applicable to AIA Australia Income Protection and Business Expenses benefits.
